

Are you buying or selling an “Exceptional” property?

Work with an agent who has earned the “CLHMS” designation!

As a real estate professional, I understand the importance of having special competencies and the right tools to help you buy or sell an exceptional home. As part of my commitment to you to offer the best possible service, I have earned a special international designation awarded by The Institute for Luxury Home Marketing.

This important designation -- Certified Luxury Home Marketing Specialist (CLHMS) -- recognizes education and achievement in the upper tier residential market.

Special competencies

To become a member of The Institute, an agent must attend an intense two-day seminar focusing on marketing techniques and other special skills that set The Institute’s members apart from their competitors and give their clients an edge when selling or purchasing a luxury home. In addition to attending training, an agent must meet performance standards set by The Institute, including documenting past successes in the luxury market. Only then is the CLHMS designation awarded.

Market knowledge

Each month, I receive valuable information from The Institute regarding market trends, creative marketing strategies, and best practice tips from other successful real estate professionals from across the country and abroad. This is information which will be put to work to help you meet your real estate objectives.

Exceptional tools

Thanks to the long list of The Institute’s marketing partners, I have access to targeted lists of the very affluent, global websites, distinctive marketing tools, a variety of premier publications, as well as a network of other real estate professionals to whom we can promote your property.

Exceptional properties call for exceptional agents. My CLHMS designation lets you know that I have the skills and market knowledge to make a difference for you.

If you, or someone you know, is interested in buying or selling luxury properties, I’d be delighted to assist. Please call or contact me by email.